Thus, transfer the names of all pregnant women and babies below one year of age in the correct space in the data transfer sheet. Ensure that no pregnant woman and baby below one year of age are left out.

5 Fifth Step

Now, take the names of all pregnant women and babies below one year of age from Data Transfer Sheet and write in Home Visit Planner in ascending order. For example, begin with the name of the first baby written in January 2017 and write up to the pregnant woman mentioned in December 2018, along with their family number, serial number within the family and Date of Birth/Estimated Date of Delivery. Ensure that no pregnant woman and baby below one year of age are left out.

If you are working on an ICDS-CAS mobile phone, the Home Visit Register will fill automatically soon after the HH Register is filled.

First Step

On opening the Home Visit Register you will see a list, which will remind you of the pregnant or lactating women you have to meet this month and why.

If you come to know of a baby up to one year old, write her name, her Date of Birth (DoB) in the data transfer sheet against the space provided for the same year and month. Also write the baby's family number, her serial number in the family and sex.

2

Similarly, if you come to know of a pregnant woman, write her name and her Estimated Date of Delivery (EDD) in the data transfer sheet against the space provided for the same year and month. Also write her family number and her serial number in the family.
